Roscoe Smith is employed in the office of the American Express Co. in Waterville.

The annual harvest supper of the Unitarian society will be given at the vestry this evening at 6 o'clock.

Eugene P. Warren is temporarily relieving Night Officer Edward T. Finn, who is laid off on account of illness.

R. B. Holmes, of Ellsworth, has purchased of A. C. Swazey, of Bucksport, a tract of timberland in Orland.

Clerk-of-Courts J. F. Knowlton and wife were the guests of Hon. Parker Spofford in Bucksport over Sunday.

Station Agent C. D. Wiggin is spending his vacation in the White Mountains.

Mrs. Wiggin accompanies him on the trip.

Sunrise council, D. of L., will hold a regular meeting to-morrow evening. All officers and members are requested to be present.

The Industrial Journal of Bangor, in its October number, prints a picture of the Nicolai clubhouse, recently purchased by Senator Hale.

The ladies of the November committee of the Congregational church will serve a New England "breakfast" at the vestry on Thursday, Nov. 23, at 12 o'clock.

Mrs. Eleanor Jones Kingsley, of Bar Harbor, and Mrs. Sarah Jones True and son, J. J. True, of Garland, are the guests of Mrs. Charlotte T. Jones in this city.

Eugene P. Warren has purchased of Harry C. Austin the Spencer Hall house on upper Main street. Mr. Warren and his family moved into the house this week.

There will be an important meeting of Nokomis Rebekah lodge next Tuesday evening, when work for the winter will be planned. A large attendance is desired.

At the meeting of the Woman's Alliance of the Unitarian church next Wednesday afternoon, at the parsonage at 3 o'clock, the topic for the day will be "The Laws of Health."

Mrs. Myra Jordan and Miss Carrie F. Haynes, with Mrs. Jordan's daughter, Miss Frances, who have been living in Auburn for several months, have returned to this city.

The union service at the Baptist vestry last Sunday evening was largely attended.

Secretary Lufkin, of the Maine State Sunday School association, spoke interestingly of Sunday school work.

In spite of the rain about twenty-five people from North Brooklin, South Bluehill and South Surry took advantage of the excursion by steamer Percy V., given by C. L. Morang, and came to Ellsworth to-day.

The literature club will hold its first meeting for the season next Tuesday evening, Nov. 7, at the home of the president, Rev. S. W. Sutton, at 7.45 o'clock, instead of Nov. 6, as first announced. Subject: "Italian Art."

The old Ellsworth schooner Kentucky, sold recently to Rancil Sinclair, of Surry, to Rockland parties, ran on a rock in Eggemoggin Reach last week, while loaded with kiln wood. She was brought in by Capt. Paschal, of Stonington.

Colin Frazier, of Ellsworth Falls, got tangled up in a rotary at Alvah K. Haslam's mill at Waltham Tuesday, and came out of it with a badly fractured left arm. The arm was set by Drs. H. W. Osgood and Lewis Hodgkins, of Ellsworth.

Seaside Local Union of Christian Endeavor and Epworth League societies will meet at the Union Congregational church, Ellsworth Falls, Wednesday, Nov. 8. Miss Margaret Koch, of Portland, will be present at both sessions, afternoon and evening.

The supper and sociable of Irene chapter, O. E. S., at Lygonia hall last Thursday evening was a pleasant affair. After an excellent supper, the floor was cleared for dancing, which continued until well into the night. Music was furnished by H. N. Joy.

C. E. Bellamy, of the Humphrey Advertising Co., Boston, and B. F. Dennis, advertising representative for New England of the magazine section of Hearst's newspapers, were in Ellsworth a few days this week. Mr. Dennis returned to Boston Monday and Mr. Bellamy yesterday.

Jesse Dunham, of Ellsworth Falls, met with a serious accident the latter part of last week, while operating a new hay cutter. In some way he got his hand in the knives, cutting the arteries and cords in the wrist. Prompt action in binding the arm above the cut alone prevented him from bleeding to death.

Walter Blaisdell, inspector of marine boilers and engines, and Charles O. Cousins, inspector of hulls, for this district, were in Ellsworth yesterday, looking over the steamer Percy V. Incidentally they inspected the schooner Lewis R. French, which is being equipped with a Walker engine at the Ellsworth foundry.

The "Deestrick Skule" of fifty years ago will be given in Hancock hall Monday evening, Nov. 6, under the auspices of the October social committee of the Congregational society. There will be about thirty-five people in the cast. All who enjoy a good laugh, will have it at this entertainment, as it will be brimful of fun.

Joseph Luchini will leave here to-morrow for New York, whence he will sail on Saturday for a visit to his old home in Italy. This will be his first visit there in nine years. He will spend the winter in Italy. "Joe" has made many friends during his seven years' residence in Ellsworth, and all wish him a pleasant trip and safe return.

The annual performance of the Dirigo club minstrels will be given Thanksgiving eve, Nov. 29, in Hancock hall. Rehearsals are being held in the club rooms, and much interest is manifested by the members. The "first part"—a military setting—will be something new. In connection with the minstrels, the annual ball and supper will be given.

Capt. John A. Lord met with a serious accident Saturday, which may result in the loss of the first joint of the forefinger of his right hand. The finger was caught in the cog-wheels of a peanut roasting machine, and almost taken off at the first joint, only a small piece of flesh holding it. The end was bound in place at once, and it is hoped the finger will be saved.

Work has commenced on a cottage to be built by Mrs. S. A. Brown, of Bangor, at Hancock Point, for which Austin M. Foster, of this city, has the contract. The site of the cottage is a desirable one, on the west side of the point. It will be about 28x60 feet, including piazza. Mrs. Brown and family have been members of the Hancock Point colony several seasons.

Improvements are being made at the Hancock house which will give increased room and add to the convenience of the hotel. An addition is being built in the rear, running up three stories, of sufficient size to admit of adding several more sleeping rooms, or to build bath rooms in connection with present rooms. New underpinning is being placed under the rear walls of the hotel.

The firm of Young & Dow, dealers in agricultural implements, has been dissolved, Capt. Dow retiring. The business will be continued by Mr. Young at the same place—basement of old Lord's hall building on Main street. Capt. Dow left town Monday for Melrose, Mass. He has not yet decided whether he will go into business again, or go back to his old calling of going to sea.

Chief Justice Wiswell, Judge John A. Peters, A. W. King and B. T. Sowle, of Ellsworth, and E. B. Mears and L. B. Deasy, of Bar Harbor, spent a few days during the past week in camp near Great Pond. They brought home no game, as the deer wisely kept out of sight until rifles were safely packed in cases and the party was homeward bound, when one deer came out to wave a farewell.

The firemen were called out late Monday afternoon by a slight fire in the Ellsworth Shoe Co.'s factory. The fire caught on the under side of the roof in the attic, from a broken stove pipe. Its timely discovery by Manager B. F. Thomas, of the shoe company, just before the factory shut down for the night, doubtless prevented a serious fire. As it was, one dash of water from the hose extinguished the flames. The damage from fire and water was slight.

At the annual meeting of the Unitarian society last Wednesday evening, officers were elected as follows: President, Mrs. A. F. Greeley; vice-president, Irving Os-

CHORUS ASSURED.

Ellsworth Will Have a Festival Chorus This Winter.

In response to a general invitation to be present, about sixty people came to Manning hall last Thursday evening to talk over the outlook for the organization of a festival chorus in Ellsworth this winter.

Remarks were made by Rev. J. M. Adams, H. L. Crabtree and F. W. Rollins, and after some informal discussion a canvass of those present was made, and fifty-three signified their intention to become members. Of these, ten were men, forty-three were women.

Since the meeting several more have announced their intention to join, and it is probable that a membership of over sixty will be secured.

A meeting will be held at Manning hall to-morrow evening, when an organization will be perfected, and a rehearsal held.

The oratorio to be studied this winter is Mendelssohn's "Elijah", and until the other music is ready the rehearsals will be confined wholly to the "Elijah". Copies of the work have been ordered, and will be ready for delivery to-morrow; they can be obtained of H. L. Crabtree.

All who desire to join are cordially invited to be present at the meeting to-morrow evening. All who are interested in the study of music, especially the young people, are urged to join, as opportunity is offered not only to become familiar with good music, but also to learn to read music. It is, perhaps, the best substitute for the old-fashioned singing school that is at present available.

Membership carries with it no obligation to attend the festival in Bangor, although all who can are expected to go.

Rehearsals will be held during the winter on Thursday evenings of each week at Manning hall. It is proposed to give a concert in the spring or early summer, the proceeds to go towards defraying the winter's expenses.

Some social and literary features will be introduced this winter to relieve the monotony of rehearsing, and it is hoped that the work of the organization may be made so attractive and efficient that the Ellsworth chorus may be enabled to regain its former prestige.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week
Beginning Nov. 5.

By REV. S. H. DOYLE.

Topic.—Am I keeping my Christian Endeavor covenant?—Mat. II, 5, 6; Ps. II, 6; II Cor. VIII, 21. (Consecration meeting.)

There is no reason why any Christian Endeavorer should not keep his Endeavor covenant, known as the Christian Endeavor pledge. It is possible of being kept, nor is there anything about it of an ironclad character that needs to be abandoned. Pledges of even more binding character are taken almost every day in life. The obligations of church membership are more binding and exacting when conscientiously understood when they are taken. The marriage vow is much more binding, and yet very few young people are unwilling to assume it, and to their praise it may be noted that the vast majority are true and faithful to it. All precedents go to show that the Endeavor pledge is not impossible of being kept.

We base our fidelity to keep the pledge (1) upon the faithfulness of Christ to us and (2) to conditions. The first clause is, "Trusting in the Lord Jesus Christ for strength." We make no pledge upon personal strength. It is based upon the strength of Christ. Therefore whoever doubts his willingness to keep the pledge doubts Christ's willingness and power and not his own. And who will do this? We "can do all things through Christ, who strengtheneth us." Moreover, the pledge is conditional. Every promise taken is guarded by the principle, "Unless I can give a conscientious reason to my Master." If we have a good reason for not taking part in a meeting or attending the midweek service, we are absolved from the promise to do these things, and, if we have not, why should we not do them? What Christian without excuse should refuse to testify for Christ, and what Christian, if he has no excuse, should neglect the services of his church? These are our plain duties if we had never taken the Christian Endeavor pledge, and so are all the other promises in it. It can be perfectly kept, and the keeping thereof will be a blessing to all who have taken it. Christian life and Christian peace are produced by keeping the pledge.

In addition to the fact that there is no reason why any Endeavorer should fail to keep the pledge there is every reason why he should. First, duty to God demands that we keep the pledge. "Thou desirest truth in the inward parts." When we make a vow unto God He expects us to keep it. Second, duty to men demands that we keep the pledge. Paul urges us to stand "for honest things, not only in the sight of the Lord, but also in the sight of men." We take the pledge before men. If we are indifferent to it and break it we lose caste among men. The man who does not keep his pledged word cannot long keep the confidence of his fellow men. These are not arguments against taking the pledge. We should take it, but having taken it we should keep it. The Lord can and will help us to do so if we will really trust Him.

BIBLE READINGS.

Gen. xxviii, 20-22; Num. xxi, 1-3; xxx, 1, 2; Deut. xxiii, 21; Eccl. v, 4, 5; Ps. I, 14; lxxvi, 11; Col. iii, 17; Jas. I, 22-27; Rev. ii, 10.

An English Opinion.

The marvel of Christian Endeavor consists in its adaptability to all countries, while at the same time proving its suitability to all evangelical denominations. . . . And what of the results? The results are seen in every church where a Christian Endeavor society has been formed. The young people are bound closer together in service; they are more efficient in service; they are more loyal to the church and more inspired to lead true Christian lives. Christian Endeavor has meant advance in many a church and in many a life. Thank God for Endeavor!—Editorial in Christian Commonwealth, London.

Optimism.

At three national conventions held during July at Denver, Baltimore and Asbury Park—those of the Epworth League, Christian Endeavor society and Educational association, respectively—nearly 60,000 delegates and visitors assembled. Many of them in each case had traveled long distances at their own expense to seek inspiration and instruction for greater usefulness. Granted that there are dangerous tendencies in American life, a single fact like this outweighs many that seem to make for pessimism.—Youth's Companion.

Baltimore Convention Notes.

Dr. Tompkins gave this message for the young people to carry to their ministers: "Tell them that an obscure minister down in Philadelphia says that every minister should go into his Christian Endeavor society and stay all through and go there every time."

The message from Japan, brought by Mr. Knipp: "In the midst of war we are at peace. In the midst of war we work for peace. The motto of our societies for the coming year is, 'Improve and increase.' Our counsel to the Endeavorers of the lands of the west is, 'Be strong in the Lord and in the strength of His might.'"

The following cablegram was received from the European convention at Berlin: "Europe's united Endeavorers' hopeful greeting to America." The following reply was sent: "America and Europe united by the cable of Christian Endeavor."

This cablegram came from the antipodes: "New South Wales to beautiful Baltimore."

"We are not divided.
All one body we.
One in hope and doctrine,
One in charity."

All returns are not in, but a goodly number of societies report 10 per cent gain.

Mutual Benefit Column.

COMFORT ONE ANOTHER.

Comfort one another;
For the way is growing dreary,
The feet are often weary,
And the heart is very sad.
There is heavy burden-bearing,
When it seems that none are caring,
And we half forget that ever we were glad.

Comfort one another
With the hand-clasp close and tender,
With the sweetness love can render,
And the look of friendly eyes.
Do not wait with grace unspoken;
While life's daily bread is broken,
Gentle speech is oft like manna from the skies.

Comfort one another;
There are words of music ringing
Down the ages, sweet as singing
Of the happy choir above.
Ransomed saint and mighty angel
Lift the grand, deep-voiced evangel,
Where forever they are praising the Eternal Love.

—Margaret E. Sangster.

Selected by Alacia.

Dear M. B. Friends:

You will all be glad to hear from so many old friends this week. It is nice to have so large a family of nieces, and to have them willing to share their good things with us—all business points, choice recipes, unpleasant experiences, although connected with pleasant outings—all these are generously contributed for our pleasure and profit by Anon, Mrs. G. M. W. and Esther, whose letters follow.

PORTLAND, October 15.

Dear Aunt Madge:

After running about for more than three weeks I have at last arrived at my winter home, and very glad I am. The weather was more beautiful than I can express, so that my trip in that respect was perfect.

New York was in all its autumn glory. I think the shops and the beautiful scenery were running a race to see which could outdo the other. Broadway is a wonderful sight by day, and by night it is gorgeous. Such a display of wonderful materials and jewels. Ah, me! It is far better to live in a more quiet town where one cannot wish for the unobtainable.

We took some long rides to see the country about New York. Grant's tomb by the Hudson is a most beautiful spot, situated on quite a high elevation. One can see it afar off by itself, quiet and restful.

Central Park is a wonderful place; you can stay days and still find new wonders. What man can do in the way of invention passes all understanding. Brooklyn was included in one of our visits and of course we crossed by the bridge.

Perhaps some of the sisters will be looking for ideas in styles. Let me see what I can tell them. The skirts are full—plated, box-plated, shirred, and the circular has come back, the deep short and small flounce. The rainy-day skirt is short; the calling and visiting skirt the ground; the reception and concert, party and big times are round train length, touch in front, on the sides, and are four inches longer in the back. The waists have small jacket shaped pieces of lace put on and tight girdles; also the open vest and quillings of lace put around the jacket. Buttons that vary from $2 to $100 a dozen are worn, but we can leave those out. Shirt waists suits of mohair, cologne, henrietta, are the things; put on all the lace and ribbon you want to and any kind of a jacket will be fashionable, the short, long, medium length and clear to the train.

I wish to say that my friend and I arrived safely home from the "reunion" a trifle dusty, but happy, and we were more than glad that it was so we could attend. To myself it was a day of real enjoyment, and such fun to try and discover who was who. The dinner was a success; I can agree to that and I know that my left-hand neighbor thought so. Are you wondering if the pictures came out all at once? Well, they did, and if Ernie Stine's daughter wishes the plates she can have them.

Aunt Maria, your letters are as good as a story book to read. My sister and I just sat down and laughed over the last one. I thought I had need of the "hen's oil" when I arrived in New York after travelling two whole days in the car dust. I would like to come in some day and help on the sewing, then you could finish your pickling, and possibly I might carry one of those bouquets and give "John" a help too. With love to all the M. B.'s and Aunt Madge.

ASOS.

You are very kind to give us so many ideas on the styles, and your letter is very welcome.

Dear Aunt Madge:

It has been some time since I have sent anything for the M. B. column, and as I have two recipes which I use occasionally, and like very much, thought I would send them to you, and if you thought best, could send them to be inserted in the M. B. column. I think, as a rule, that the men like cake with molasses better than they do with sugar, that is, that is my experience.

I have thought many times of my pleasant trip to Bluehill and the pleasure I derived from meeting so many of the sisters. Hope the time is not far distant when I can meet more of them, and when the reunion is held nearer my home, shall certainly try to make one of your number.

M. E. W.

And we shall be very glad to meet you at that gathering. We always consider you our "never fail" friend in more meanings than one. Many thanks for the following recipes:

ONE CENT CAKE—One-third cup butter, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup molasses, 1 cup sour milk, 1 egg, 1 teaspoonful of soda, 2 1/2 cups flour, 1 cup of raisins, 1/2 teaspoon each of cinnamon, cloves and ginger.

QUICK CAKE—One-third cup soft butter, 1 1/2 cups brown sugar, 2 eggs, 1/2 cup milk, 1 1/2 cups flour, 3 teaspoonfuls baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/2 pound

A TRULY IDEAL WIFE

HER HUSBAND'S BEST HELPER

Vigorous Health Is the Great Source of the Power to Inspire and Encourage—All Women Should Seek It.

One of the most noted, successful and richest men of this century, in a recent article, has said, "Whatever I am and whatever success I have attained in this world I owe all to my wife. From the day I first knew her she has been an inspiration, and the greatest helpmate of my life."

Mrs. Bessie Ainsley

To be such a successful wife, to retain the love and admiration of her husband, to inspire him to make the most of himself, should be a woman's constant study.

If a woman finds that her energies are flagging, that she gets easily tired, dark shadows appear under her eyes, she has backache, headaches, bearing-down pains, nervousness, whites, irregularities or the blues, she should start at once to build up her system by a tonic with specific powers, such as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Following we publish by request a letter from a young wife:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:

"Ever since my child was born I have suffered, as I hope few women ever have, with inflammation, female weakness, bearing-down pains, backache and wretched headaches. It affected my stomach so I could not enjoy my meals, and half my time was spent in bed."

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman, and I feel so grateful that I am glad to write and tell you of my marvelous recovery. It brought me health, new life and vitality."—Mrs. Bessie Ainsley, 611 South 10th Street, Tacoma, Wash.

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Ainsley it will do for every sick and ailing woman. If you have symptoms you don't understand write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free and always helpful.

dates stoned and cut in pieces. Put ingredients in a bowl and beat all together for three minutes. Bake in a cake pan thirty-five to forty minutes. If made according to directions it will prove to be nice, but if ingredients are added separately it will be a failure.

M. E. W.

STEAMER JULIETTE, October, 1905.

Dear Aunt Madge:

Beginning a letter to you and the column before getting fairly out of sight of Bluehill mountain reminds me of the three little boys who were going away from home for a few weeks' visit. One of them, wishing to be first to write to his mother, conceived the brilliant idea of writing before leaving home. Among other things he said: "We are all well. Please excuse this writing, you keep coming into the room so."

While my writing is erratic from other reasons than his, namely the rolling of the boat and a consequent rolling of my stomach, I trust it will also be excused.

"Novice" sits at my right hand, and suggests that the churning sensation in my stomach may also be partly caused by a sympathetic connection with the churn dasher which I changed to remark was probably in use at home where it is churning day, but whatever the cause the feeling is certainly not one to be desired, and when I reach my destination I shall feel as thankful as did the old lady who, on landing after a long steamboat ride, exclaimed fervently: "Thank the Lord! I am once more on terra cotta."

SEVERAL DAYS LATER.

At this point my feelings so nearly overcame me that I gave myself up to a desperate resolution not to yield to the final "throes" (that is a pun) of the occasion, and was successful till we had changed to the City of Rockland and were on the way toward Boston. Then, owing to an approaching storm, the wind began to rise and when an immense "swell" lifted the boat and sent it down again, I failed to appreciate the feelings of a little girl who exclaimed: "Oh I just love to go tipple, tipple, 'spectally on a boat!" but fled as Samantha Allen would say, "immediately and to once" from the sight of man and woman—and not a moment too soon.

However, all things come to an end at last—and though delayed nearly a whole day port was reached at last, and I have since had so pleasant a time with my sisters that the discomforts of getting here are nearly forgotten.

It is a long vacation for me, and I thought I would have plenty of time for a long letter to the column, but find time goes as quickly when visiting and sight-seeing as when busy at home, and this is all I have succeeded in writing, but will send it along hoping it will fill a "chuck" in the column, if not very good. Shall soon be home now and will try to write often.

EITHER.

You have given us a nice report of your trip. We are all glad you were able to get away from home cares for a while. Tell us more about your adventures when you have time.

W. C. T. U. Column.

[The editor invites secretaries of local unions of the W. C. T. U. in Hancock county, and white ribbons generally, to contribute to this column reports of meetings or items that will be of interest to workers in other parts of the county. We would like this to be a live column, but it needs some effort on the part of W. C. T. U. women to make it so. It is a column of their making, not ours, and will be what they make it. Items and communications should be short, and are, of course, subject to approval of the editor.]

SOUTHWEST HARBOR.

Friday evening, Oct. 27, the Ys were entertained by Mrs. A. W. Clark. A most enjoyable evening was passed. Mrs. Katherine Freeman gave an interesting report of the State convention. Refreshments were served. Number present, twelve.

Through the kindness of S. R. Clark, proprietor of Hotel Dirigo, we held a social there Tuesday evening, Oct. 17. Ice-cream and cake were served. Proceeds about $8.

Friday evening, Nov. 3, we will meet at the Congregational vestry. PRESS SUPT.

KITTELY TO CARIBOU.

John Peter Ranco, charged with the murder of Peter J. Loring at the Indian reservation, Old Town, has been held for the grand jury without bail.

William A. Kingsbury, a collector in the Bangor postoffice, died Sunday night from heart failure. His age was thirty-one years. He leaves a wife and one son.

Celia Vance, aged six years, of Medway, was killed by the accidental discharge of a rifle with which she and four other children were playing while left alone at home.

Mrs. Alice F. Cooper has been held on the charge of the murder of Charles D. Northey, Jr., at her home in South Windsor, on Oct. 11. She was admitted to bail in the sum of $10,000.

Hon. Lambert Sands, of South Sebec, for many years one of the prominent citizens of Piscataquis county, died last Wednesday, aged sixty-nine years. He was a member of Gov. Robie's council.

Capt. Clement P. Jayne, superintendent of the Sailors' Snug Harbor at Quincy, Mass., one of the best known of old-time deep sea skippers, died very suddenly Tuesday morning of heart disease. He was born in Hampden, Aug. 4, 1823.

The postoffice safe in the store of C. G. Hume, at Shawmut, was blown open by burglars and $400 in money and stamps was taken. The explosion set fire to blankets which were used to deaden the sound and resulted in a loss of $8,000.

Arthur McFarland, of Charlestown, Mass., aged fifteen years, has been indicted by the Lincoln county grand jury for manslaughter in fatally shooting Dr. George R. Woods, of Bristol, July 25, while discharging a revolver in the street.

William W. Stewart, of Massachusetts, who had been passing last week at Machias hunting, was drowned Sunday by the upsetting of his canoe at Beaver Dam on the Machias river. Stuart was thirty-five years old. He leaves a widow and three children.

Springvale is disturbed by an epidemic of typhoid fever. There are sixty cases in the town, and last week there were three deaths within four days. Local physicians attribute the disease to the water supply which has been changed temporarily while alterations in the pipes are being made.

Patents have been granted to Maine inventors as follows: Hiram Burrill, Sanguine, turbine; George Naylor, Lewiston, Jacquard mechanism for looms; Herbert F. Palmer, Lewiston, collar-boards for mules in spinning machinery; Danville S. Pierce, Bingham, barrel-cover.

At the business meeting of the Maine teachers' association in Portland Friday, Supt. Payson Smith, of Auburn, was elected president; William H. Brownson, of Portland, vice-president; M. P. Dutton, of Augusta, secretary and treasurer; Miss Mary A. Stevens, of Lewiston, corresponding secretary.

George S. West, of Milbridge, was found guilty last week of manslaughter, and sentenced to five years in State prison. West, on August 9, in a fight with Harvey Foster, stabbed him. Foster died two weeks later from blood-poisoning resulting from the wound, which in itself was not sufficient to cause death.

Still another Maine murder! At Biddeford Monday, in the Pepperell cotton mills, Anastasio Stefan, in a sudden passion, after being struck in fun by Anastasio Costa, stabbed the latter in the abdomen, inflicting a wound from which he died a few hours later. The men are Italians. The murderer escaped in the confusion following the assault, but was captured a few hours later six miles out of the city.

The suggestion is now made that John E. Veazie, whose charred body was found in the ruins of his home at Bar Mills last week, was the victim of foul play. According to a woman living near, a carriage was driven rapidly by her house, coming from the direction of the Veazie house, just before the fire was discovered. Mr. Veazie was known to have about $100 in the house. Murder for robbery, and arson to conceal the crime, is the theory upon which the selectmen of the town ask the county authorities to investigate the matter further.

AUNT SALOME SELLERS.

How She Observed her 105th Birthday Anniversary.

SOUTHWEST HARBOR, Oct. 30 (special).—Through the courtesy of Joseph Sylvester Sellers, a grandson of our centenarian white-ribboner, I have been given a brief description of the birthday party of Mrs. Salome Sellers, of Deer Isle.

As the date, Oct. 15, of her 105th anniversary fell on Sunday, the reception was held on Monday. Many friends came to see her, some being of the Martha Washington temperance society of which she is the oldest living member, the society being organized in 1834.

A great many presents were received; fruit and confectionery were well relished by the dear young lady. Letters came from all parts of the union, for Mrs. Sellers is the oldest known member of the W. C. T. U. Ice-cream was served to the company, and a piece of birthday cake given to all callers.

"Aunt Salome" enjoys good health to a marked degree, and her hearing is practically as good as that of a young person. On her table, which came from England, brought by an ancestor, she keeps a book in which the names of all of her callers are registered. All visitors are greeted by a pleasant smile and cheerfully bidden to "come again." Mrs. Sellers wishes to thank all who made her 105th birthday such a happy event either by letters, gifts or personal visits.

SPRAY.

Man's Unreasonableness is often as great as woman's. But Thos. S. Austin, Mgr. of the "Republican," of Leavenworth, Ind., was not unreasonable, when he refused to allow the doctors to operate on his wife for female trouble. "Instead," he says, "we concluded to try Electric Bitters. My wife was then so sick she could hardly leave her bed, and five [5] physicians had failed to relieve her. After taking Electric Bitters, she was perfectly cured, and can now perform all her household duties." Guaranteed by E. H. Moore, druggist, price, 50c.

ELLSWORTH MARKETS.

Situation Remains Practically Unchanged from Last Week. Things are dull in the local markets as regards price changes, though the continued pleasant weather has resulted in a fair amount of trade.

Eggs are scarce at 32 cents, and an early advance is probable. Butter is almost a glut on the market, but price for the best remains at 25 cents.

Flour has advanced as much as 50 cents a barrel for some brands in the wholesale markets, but prices here remain practically unchanged.

The quotations below give the range of retail prices in Ellsworth.

BLUEHILL HISTORY.

(Compiled by R. G. F. Candage, Brookline, Mass., for the Bluehill Historical Society.)

The Bluehill Historical society will be glad to receive through its president, Dr. Otis Little, of Bluehill, suggestions, corrections, etc., which will assist in making these papers as complete and as correct as possible.

AN OUTLINE SKETCH OF THE SOUTHERN PART OF BLUE HILL, ME.

ITS SETTLERS AND RESIDENTS BETWEEN THE SEDGWICK TOWN LINE AND THE HEAD OF THE BAY, FROM HISTORIC DATA, TRADITION AND MEMORY.

By R. G. F. Candage (1905).

From the record of the town's annual meeting held "March 6, 1769", we learn that it was "Voted that Joseph Wood, Jonathan Darling and Robert Parker be a committee to lay out Roads where they should think proper to convey the Town on this side of the Salt Pond."

The year previous the town voted "For to clear a Rhode from here to Pronobscutt" and chose a committee consisting of Samuel Foster, Israel Wood, Robert Parker, Joseph Wood and John Roundy to attend to laying out said "Rhode".

At the annual town meeting held "Monday, April 7, 1794, voted that the following Roads be recorded. Viz:—

"1. The Road on the Neck.

"2. The Road leading to the Tide Mills from the Main Road that leads to Mr. Carleton's.

"3. The Road from the Head of Blue Hill Bay to Noice's Brook by Mr. Joseph Parker's.

"4. The Road leading from Beech Hill by the Meeting house to the Head of Blue Hill Bay.

"5. The Road leading to the old Penobscot Road near Mr. Robert Wood's from the Head of Blue Hill Bay by Capt. Joshua Horton's."

The foregoing extracts from the records fix the fact of the location of the first roads laid out and built in the town.

For the purposes of this paper our investigation and statements will necessarily be confined to the consideration of the places and residents along the roads designated above as the "road leading to the Tide Mills" and "the Main Road that leads to Mr. Carleton's" in one direction and to the Head of the Bay in the opposite direction.

It appears by the records that there were four persons who settled in the south part of the town by the name of Carleton, whose given names were Edward, Dudley, Moses and David, all from Andover, Mass., and evidently brothers. They built the mills first known as Carleton's mills, mentioned in the town records in 1770 for the first time when Dudley Carleton was elected a selectman, in 1771 was re-elected and in 1772 was chosen one of a committee to keep the fish course clear at Carleton's mills.

April 3, 1775, "Voted that the Inhabitants of the Town meet at the house of Mr. David Carleton the 2nd Monday in May to see something about making the hour something better, at 8 o'clock in the morning. Meeting Adjourned to house and time aforesaid." Then follows this entry: "The Disturbance Between Britain and America Prevented the meeting According to Adjournment." "This Disturbance" probably was news of the battle of Lexington.

March 28, 1776, David Carleton was chosen one of the committee of correspondence and in 1779 a surveyor of lumber.

March 7, 1785, Moses Carleton was one of a committee of three "to hire a Preacher and Collect the Money to pay him."

Edward Carleton was chosen a surveyor of lumber in 1789, and in 1792 and 1793 one of a committee to keep the fish course clear. The fish course was at Carleton's mills, to provide a passage for alewives to the pond above, where they went to spawn. At those mills also frost fish came to spawn about the time of Christmas, and were taken in great numbers. Fish were a valuable article of food for the settlers of the town, and care was taken that the alewives should not be obstructed in their yearly visits to the fresh water ponds where they deposited their eggs and hatched their young.

The writer well remembers the fish course spoken of, and that on certain days when "the fish were running" they could be taken under regulations made by the town, while on other days the people took fish unlawfully and subject to a fine.

In 1785, Edward Carleton was chosen with others to superintend and inspect the fish course, fix the place for catching fish from Monday at sunrise until Wednesday at sunset. He was also allowed by vote of the town "three pence per light for 300 lights of sashes delivered for the Meeting house" and chosen to present the proposals to the church, by the town, for it to offer through a committee to Jonathan Fisher regarding his settlement, and that Mr. Carleton be desired to request the church by a committee to wait upon Jonathan Fisher, with the town's proposal for an exchange of the minister's lot and Mr. Carleton's lot, if he settles in the town.

In 1797, "Voted that Major David Carleton have the consent of this town to bid upon the Pews as he shall please." This was for the sale of the pews of the new meeting house, and would indicate that Major Carleton had moved to Sedgwick and without the vote as above would not have had the right to bid for the pews when they came up for sale.

From the church records it is learned that David Carleton and Mary, his wife, owned the covenant and had baptised

Molly Adams Coggeswell and Dudley, July 4, 1784, by Rev. Seth Noble.

Edward Carleton and Phebe, his wife, owned the covenant and had their daughter Abigail Abbott baptised by Oliver Noble, Oct. 17, 1790.

Moses Carleton and Mary his wife presented the following children:

Leonard, Oct. 17, 1790. Rev. Oliver Noble.

Ebenezer, July 8, 1792. Rev. Peter Powers.

Elizabeth, Aug. 22, 1794. Rev. Samuel Eaton.

There is no record to show that Dudley Carleton was a member of the church at Blue Hill, that he had a family, or when and where he died.

The Carletons were men of activity and business energy in the earlier years of the settlement of the town. They lived near by their mills upon lands later conveyed to Amos Allen and his sons, who also purchased from them the mills that were built and owned for many years by the Carletons. Just where stood the houses of David, Edward and Dudley Carleton, the writer has no means of definitely determining at this writing, but the house of Moses was standing in the writer's boyhood upon the site of the present house of the late Joseph Allen. It was a two-story structure in front and of one story in the rear, but what year it was built cannot now be stated, though probably shortly after the Carletons came to the locality from Andover.

In the early years of 1800, the Carletons built a ship near the mills, called the "Juno", of which Dudley Carleton, 2nd, son of David, was master. She was 250 tons, single deck, and a full-rigger ship, in which the father of the writer made a voyage to Liverpool, England, and back to Boston as one of her foremost hands.

A number of other vessels have been built there in later years, and lumber from the mills, and wood from the landing have been scowed down the Salt pond, and passed out over the Fore Falls to form many cargoes shipped to western markets. It was no uncommon sight to see half a dozen or more vessels at anchor below the Falls receiving cargoes from Carletons or Allen's mills and other landings along the shores of the Salt pond, in the boyhood of the writer.

Moses Carleton's family record is as follows:

1. Moses, born Jan. 10, 1785; married Nancy —

2. William, born Dec. 12, 1786; married Pamela Osgood.

3. Leonard, born Jan. 30, 1789; married Sally —

4. Ebenezer, born March 27, 1791; married Polly Dorr, of Penobscot, Nov. 15, 1815.

5. Elizabeth, born (no date given.)

6. Michael, born Oct. 26, 1795; a sailor preacher at Salem, Mass.

7. Polly, born Nov. 22, 1797; never married; died Sept. 20, 1865.

8. Parker, born April 7, 1800; died at Andover, Mass., Nov. 23, 1823.

9. Betsey, born Sept. 21, 1802; married Josiah Cogges.

10. Sukey, born July 4, 1806; married Jonah Dodge.

11. Samuel, born Jan. 11, 1808; never married; died Jan. 10, 1862.

12. Phebe, born Dec. 2, 1810.

Moses Carleton, head of this family, died Oct. 1838, aged 79; Mary his widow, August 20, 1867, aged 88 years.

Ebenezer Carleton, son of Moses, married Polly Dorr, of Penobscot, Nov. 15, 1815, and settled on the west side of the First pond, where he lived as a farmer and brought up a family of children as follows:

1. Charlotte, born Feb. 14, 1816; married Capt. John Douglass, of Brooksville.

2. Kimball, born July 30, 1817.

3. Susan, born April 10, 1819; died Jan. 27, 1824.

4. Abigail, born April 16, 1821; married Simeon P. Tapley, of Brooksville.

5. Elizabeth, born April 24, 1823; died August 13, 1825.

6. Deborah, born April 19, 1825.

7. Susan, born August 7, 1827.

8. Michael, born Nov. 4, 1829.

9. Lucinda, born Feb. 14, 1832.

10. Charles, born June 9, 1835.

The other sons of Moses Carleton settled elsewhere in the town, and the family of Major David Carleton removed to North Sedgwick.

Amos Allen, born in Sedgwick, Oct. 3, 1772, married Joanna Herrick, of Sedgwick, Dec. 25, 1793, removed to Blue Hill in 1795, where he became owner of Carleton's mills and of the land and buildings taken up and improved by the Carletons. He was a miller, farmer, ship-owner, preacher and a representative to the Maine legislature in 1820-1-2-3, and in 1842, and a man of influence and force of character.

When elected to the legislature of 1842, it was generally supposed that he favored a bridge across the Falls, and all in favor of that object voted for his election. A petition was sent to the legislature for a charter to build the bridge, and requests to Mr. Allen to present the petition and advocate the measure.

The petition recited the convenience it would be to the people residing in that part of Sedgwick, now Brooklin, and on the Neck, with the miles travel it would shorten for those on the Neck desirous of traveling to Blue Hill village, either on foot or by carriage or team of any kind by land.

Great was the surprise felt by the friends of the measure and those who had made Mr. Allen's nomination and election sure, to find him arrayed against the charter openly, and by a speech that set the legislators roaring with laughter by the ridicule he heaped upon the whole subject.

As reported in the Portland Advertiser of that date, which the writer of this article read at the time, he first said it would be a positive disadvantage to the ship-building interests of the Salt pond, which was great and promised to become greater, and would prove, if the charter were granted, a depression of values above said bridge. Then he turned his ridicule upon the interests of the petitioners upon the Neck, by saying, "they talk about the convenience it would be for those having carriages to drive to the village!" "Carriages", said he, "carriages and teams!

The only carriage upon Bluehill Neck is Jerry Eaton's ox-cart, and the only team his oxen."

The petitioners were incensed against him for that treatment of their case, and he never after went to the legislature. He died Jan. 28, 1855, aged 84 years. His children were:

Hepzibah, born July 7, 1794; married Joseph Herrick, of Sedgwick.

2. Amos, born Dec. 27, 1796; died Feb. 14, 1802.

3. Ebenezer, born Nov. 28, 1799; died June 19, 1819.

4. Herrick, born Sept. 4, 1801; married Lydia Stover.

5. Amos, born Jan. 6, 1804; married Polly Walker, of Brooksville.

6. Joanna, born Dec. 16, 1805; married Seneca Parker.

7. Joseph, born August 24, 1808; married 1st, Hannah Dodge, 2nd, Harriet N. Parker.

8. Hulda H., born April 22, 1812; married Robert Wood Hinckley.

9. Harriet, born March 12, 1816; married 1st, Joseph Cole, 2nd, John Allen.

10. George Stevens, born Sept. 14, 1818; married Mary S. Osgood.

11. Daniel Barden (adopted), born May 17, 1822; married Mary E. Allen, of Sedgwick.

Amos Allen lived in a large two-story house, built probably about the time he came from Sedgwick. After his death his son Amos lived in the homestead, and after him, his son David, making three generations to occupy it. Some ten or more years ago the old house took fire and was consumed. Upon its site another house has been erected, and is occupied by descendants of the first Allen at that place.

Joseph Allen, son of the first Amos, was married to Hannah Dodge, of Sedgwick, Dec. 25, 1834, and set up housekeeping about that time in the old Moses Carleton house, which he occupied for some years, then pulled it down and built upon the site the house now standing there. Hannah Dodge, his wife, died childless in —, and in 1868 he married 2nd, Harriet N. Parker, by whom he had children. Mr. Allen died a few years ago.

Herrick Allen married Lydia Stover Jan. 25, 1831, and it is supposed that he built his house about that time, which still stands the nearest to the mill stream. His children were:

1. Caroline Augusta, born Nov. 28, 1831; married R. G. W. Dodge.

2. Frances Joan Parker, born June 14, 1833.

3. Augustine Melville, born June 1, 1835.

4. Edward Wheelock, born June 24, 1837.

5. Ruby Maria, born Sept. 3, 1839.

6. Harriet Elizabeth, born May 7, 1842; died April 29, 1847.

7. Julia Maria, born August 11, 1845; died July 14, 1863.

8. Roscoe George, born Dec. 22, 1847.

Herrick Allen, head of this family, died March 15, 1869.

The Allens owned all the land from the Sedgwick line to Long Cove fronting upon the Salt pond, and stretching back therefrom some distance into the interior. They were good farmers as well as mill and lumbermen. Daniel B., the adopted son of Amos, sr., built his house upon the eastern part of the land of his foster father previous to 1850, where he resided until his death. The house, barn and out-buildings are all gone at this writing. He married Mary E. Allen, of Sedgwick, daughter of Nathan and Nancy Parker Allen, March 28, 1848. Their children were as follows:

1. Edith Hinckley, born Sept. 14, 1848.

2. Nancy Jane, born Dec. 29, 1850.

3. Lillia Adelaide, born August 16, 1853.

4. Nellie Maria, born Nov. 2, 1855.

5. Daniel Edwin, born Feb. 2, 1862.

6. David Benjamin, born Sept. 22, 1866.

Amos Allen, sr., and his wife Joanna, were members of the Blue Hill Congregational church, but in 1806 withdrew and joined the Baptists, and were original members of the latter church at its organization. He was licensed to preach, after which he was known as Elder Amos Allen. He preached for the Neck church and for the Baptist church at Brooksville.

In those days the elders and ministers were accustomed to take wine and spirits on great occasions, and at other times when they felt like it. It is related of Elder Allen that while engaged to preach at Brooksville, he arose on Sunday morning but not feeling well took a glass of rum on an empty stomach, which unfitted him to attend to his duties for that day. Later, being asked why he did not fill his engagement to preach on that Sunday, he frankly stated that the glass of rum overpowered him, and he thought it best to remain at home. The explanation was satisfactory to the church and all concerned.

Beyond Allen's mills upon the main road stood a small house, in the boyhood days of the writer, occupied by a Mr. Closson and family. The house has been gone many years. Off the main road to the right was the home of Eliphalet Grindle and family, and another not far distant from Grindle's was the house and home of a family by the name of Durgin.

The Allen neighborhood was isolated from the rest of the people of the town; it was a community by itself, well known to the writer seventy years ago.

Long Cove was the next place of importance northeast of the Allen settlement. Its importance consisted of being a landing to which were brought cordwood and saw logs from the interior to be scowed to vessels loading below the falls with wood for Boston and elsewhere, and for rafting and floating logs to the tide mills. Wood to the amount of hundreds of cords was hauled there each winter and piled upon the shore awaiting spring and summer to be forwarded to market. It was a busy place for a portion of the year, and presented a picture of activity and enterprise.

The cove extended a quarter of a mile or more above the highway bridge that crossed over it, and it was the head waters of the cove where a brook emptied into it that the boys frequented in the spring to catch smelts.

Upon the rise of ground east of the cove in those days was the house on the north and barn on the south of the road of William W. Gray. He was the son of Joshua Gray, of Sedgwick, and his wife was Lucy, daughter of Josiah Closson, of the same town. They had no children of their own, but adopted one or more. Mr. Gray was an industrious man, who gained a livelihood by farming, and by working at odd jobs for others. He and his wife have been dead a half century, his house and barn are gone, and his farm is now owned by a son of Daniel B. Allen.

The most prominent political questions to-day are those relating to railway rate legislation and the Panama canal. The Senate committee on railway rate legislation, of which Senator Elkins is chairman, has already resumed its sessions in Washington, while Senator Foraker and Taft in Ohio and two rival conventions in Chicago are, through their speeches, assisted by the press, giving the country a foretaste of the debate that will be held in Congress this winter. The President needs, and is expecting to receive, democratic support. On this question at least there will be no adherence to party lines.

An investigation into the expenditures of the government printing office under Chairman Landis is under way, and no doubt recommendations will be made by which at least a million of dollars will be saved in this office alone. Mr. Hitchcock, of the interior department, has found where he can save a quarter of a million in the land office. Secretary Taft has cut off $10,000,000 in the war department. The paymaster of the navy has eliminated a few miles of red tape and saved a hundred thousand dollars and much time in his bureau. Economy is in the air and is contagious. Mr. Wallace, late chief engineer of the Panama canal, has testified that red tape has nearly strangled that enterprise, and the plan to let the work out on contract, as will probably be done, is suggested to get rid of this fatal red tape.

Chairman Carleton, of the fish and game commission, has issued a letter to game wardens throughout the State directing them to enforce the law against hunting on Sunday. This law has been more honored in the breach than the observance, so much so that it has come to be quite generally regarded as a dead letter, along with the old blue-law under which no man is allowed to travel, do any work or various other things on Sunday which are quite generally done. The law against hunting on Sunday, which is to be enforced, is not, however, a part of the blue-law, though covered by it, but is a special provision of the game law which makes Sunday a close time on all game birds or animals. The enforcement of the law will no doubt cause a protest from the sportsmen who can hunt any other day in the week, as well as from the man who is tied to office or store or labor all the week-days, and has been wont to shoulder his gun or rifle on Sunday for a day in the woods.

Bangor Banks to Merge.
The Bangor News this morning announces that arrangements have been completed for merging the Veazie national bank and the Merrill Trust Co. The two organizations will soon go into liquidation, and their business be taken over by a new corporation, to be known as the Veazie Trust Co.

The consolidation is to be effected upon the basis, so it is stated, of 225 for Veazie national stock and 135 for Merrill Trust Co. The new trust company is to have elegantly appointed quarters in the Exchange building, at State and Exchange streets, taking the entire State street front of the building.

It is understood that Edwin G. Merrill is to be president of the new company.

COUNTY GOSSIP.

THE COUNTRY PHILOSOPHER.
Leaves have fallen, grass is dead,
Skies look murky overhead,
All around looks dark and drear;
Goin' to have a storm I fear;
Almost cold enough to snow,
Yet I think a sou'east blow
Is what we're goin' to have.
All I say is, let her come,
Guess we're fixed to stand her some,
All is tight within this camp;
Send along your wind and damp.
We'll wait till it is o'er,
Then blue skies we'll see some more,
Sure that's what we'll have.
What's the good to grump and growl?
All these things must come about,
Weather, troubles and such things,
Seem to come along in strings;
First it's good and then it's bad,
Sometimes happy, sometimes sad,
That's the way they come.
So let's believe from day to day
Bad luck has not come to stay,
Let this world and all things in it
Seem much brighter every minute.
This the word I send to you,
What we ought to do, we'll do,
That's the way we'll win.
—Bath Independent.

The scallop fishermen are out in force.

Summer still holds on tenaciously. Ripe raspberries and green cucumbers were picked in West Brooksville Oct. 21.

The moose are, without doubt, working back into Hancock county. Two have been killed at Waltham and one at Sullivan so far this season.

The largest deer brought into Ellsworth this year was shot by L. F. Giles at North Ellsworth last Friday. The deer weighed about 250 pounds, and had a magnificent set of antlers.

For more than forty years the teacher of an adult class in a Sunday school is the record of Samuel Staples, of North Penobscot, who is still at his post, though nearing four-score years of age.

Our West Franklin correspondent writes: "We are having summer-like days. The fields and pastures are green, sweet peas and violets are in bloom, blackberries and raspberries are ripe, the auto dashes wildly over our rocky roads. But the Sturgis commissioner! Where, oh where is he?"

Capt. Holt, of the Ellsworth tug Little Round Top, says he ought to be equipped with wireless telegraphy apparatus, as well as all schooners entering Union river. Just think how many good tides could be saved, if a schooner coming up the bay, could wire to the tug lying at the Ellsworth wharf, "Get up steam and meet me at the bar at high water." And then what a help it would be in working out a search problem. Now only last Thursday, the Little Round Top was sent out of the river and down around Mt. Desert island to meet and tow in the schooner Henrietta A. Whitney, which had sailed out of Bar Harbor that morning. The plan was to meet the schooner at Bass Harbor bar, but "the best laid plans," etc. At dark the schooner had not been sighted, and the Little Round Top sought a harbor at Goose Cove, where she laid well out to watch for the schooner. But the schooner sneaked by in the night, a couple of cable-lengths away while the watch on the tug was below deck. At daylight, the tug again took up the search, finally gave it up, and turned back into Union River bay. When she stuck her nose around Bartlett's Island and looked up the bay, there, 'way up the bay, just coming to anchor, was the Whitney. Capt. Holt is still "settin' 'm up" down on Water street.

How many residents of the Union river towns realize the beauties of the river which lies right at their doors? The Gossiper admits that he did not until a few days ago, when it was his good fortune to enjoy a trip on Union river at Waltham.

"Nowhere such a devious stream
Save in fancy or in dream
Walled by woods or sandy shelf,
Ever doubling on itself,
Flows the stream, so still and slow
That it hardly seems to flow."

When Longfellow so wrote of the Songo river near Portland, he had never seen the Taunewannia, as the Indians called Union river, or he might have qualified that first statement. The lines seem to apply equally to Union river. The tongue-twisting Indian name of Union river suggest the twists and turns of the stream itself, but the word has another and more beautiful meaning—much flow, white and silvery. Twisting, doubling and turning on itself in serpentine meanderings orox-bows, lengthening the distance by water to twice that as the crow flies, the river flows through miles of timberland, every bend presenting a new picture. With the hardwood trees denuded now of leaves, it is still beautiful, and one can only imagine what it might be with the trees in full foliage, or in gorgeous autumn dress. The trip was made in 'Waldron Hastings' power dory, an ideal way of seeing the river, but the stream is suitable also for canoeing. For twenty miles from Brimmer's bridge to Little Falls there is not a carry, and little current. A landing and camp could be made almost anywhere, for the banks of the river for the most part are high and dry.

LAKEWOOD.

Linwood Garland, of Danforth, was at home over Sunday.

Mr. Betts and George Slack, of Boston, were here last week hunting.

John Lynam, of Bar Harbor, made his annual trapping tour through this vicinity last week. He reports a scarcity of game.

Charles O. and Martin A. Garland, who have been employed at the hatchery during the summer, have finished work and are at home.

If there is any person to whom you feel dislike, that is the person of whom you ought never to speak.—R. Cecil.

FROM BAR HARBOR.

Special Town Meeting to be held Saturday—Other News Items.
On Wednesday the rector, curate and choir of St. Saviour's church sent to Maurice C. Ramsey a conductor's baton as a slight testimonial of their esteem. The baton is of ebony with silver mountings, inscribed with Mr. Ramsey's name.

Principal Cowan of the high school and several of the other teachers were in Portland Thursday and Friday of last week attending the meetings of the college and preparatory schools association. The pupils of the high school enjoyed a recess on those two days.

The ladies of the Congregational sewing circle gave a supper in the church vestry Wednesday evening which was well patronized. The proceeds of the supper will be used towards the payment of the new steam heating plant which is soon to be installed in the church.

Dr. Elmer J. Morrison and wife left Wednesday of last week on a hunting trip in the vicinity of Island Falls. Other Bar Harbor people who are hunting in the same region are Dr. John T. Hinch and wife, M. C. Foster and wife, John Butterfield and wife, and Loren E. Kimball and wife, of Northeast Harbor.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary A. Moran, widow of Owen Moran, whose death occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Edward B. Rodick, on Monday of last week, were held the following Wednesday morning at St. Sylvia's Catholic church. The remains were taken to Bangor for interment in the family lot.

Last week Arthur J. Guthrie, of the firm of Guthrie & Wilson, with Mrs. Guthrie and their two young sons left for Portland, Ore., where they will make their future home. They will make several stops on the way, and expect to arrive at their destination in about three weeks. For some time Mr. Guthrie has been contemplating a move to the West, and during the past winter disposed of his dwelling house here with that end in view. Just before his departure he disposed of his interest in the blacksmithing and wheelwright business to his partner, Mr. Wilson. In Portland Mr. Guthrie plans to go into business when a favorable opportunity presents itself.

SPECIAL TOWN MEETING.

Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock a special meeting of the town of Eden will be held at Grand Army hall. Among the articles to be considered are the following:

To see what action the town will take relative to providing street lights for the remainder of the municipal year.

To see if the town will vote to rebuild the West street bridge.

To see if the town will vote to construct a sewer on Glen Mary road and Cedar lane.

To see if the town will vote to repair the new Eagle lake road.

Unless, at this meeting or some future special meeting, the town votes to authorize the selectmen to make a loan for the purpose of lighting the streets for the remainder of the year, the streets of the village may be in darkness until the next annual town meeting. The money appropriated for this purpose at the last annual meeting has all been expended, and no money is available for the purpose.

A vote was passed at the annual meeting prohibiting the town officials from overdrawn the accounts, and the selectmen are debating what course to pursue in regard to lighting the streets for the week and a half before the special meeting. It is probable that some way will be found around the difficulty, and that the streets will be lighted as usual. The appropriation for street lighting at the last annual meeting was $300 less than for the previous year.

NORTH ELLSWORTH.

Ruth Maddocks, who has been seriously ill with typhoid pneumonia, is gaining.

Miss Lizzie Gogins, of Lynn, Mass., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Ransom Bonney.

Mrs. Harriet Damon, Mrs. Henry Minot and Dilia McGowan have returned to their homes at Lynn, Mass.

Mrs. Lizzie Thresh, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Mary Moore, has returned to Seattle, Wash.

Alfred DeWitt and wife, of Brewer, and Mrs. Albion and Mrs. Sherman Harris, of Tracy Station, N. B., visited their brother, Lyman DeWitt, of this place.

Mrs. Florence Savidge, of New York, and Mrs. Mabel Clark, of Northampton, Mass., were called here by the illness of their mother, Mrs. Emily Clement.

Mistaken for a Deer.

William Greene, aged twenty-six, was shot and killed by a cousin, Leonard Greene, while hunting near Perham Sunday. The young men had separated, and Leonard mistook his companion for a deer.

It is reported as a singular coincidence that about two years ago, while hunting, a brother of William Greene accidentally killed a brother of Leonard Greene.

Sargentville Hotel Co.

The Sargentville Hotel Co. has been organized at Portland, for the purpose of owning and operating hotels, inns, cottages and summer resorts, and conducting a general hotel business with $50,000 capital stock of which $250 is paid in.

The officers are: President, H. P. Sweetser, of Portland; treasurer, L. L. Hight, of Portland.

Scotch Toast.

Break the egg into a small saucepan and beat up well with a spoon; season with pepper and salt and two tablespoons of butter. Toast the bread crisp and brown. Put the saucepan containing the eggs into another containing hot water, and when they are cooked, turn them over the toast, which has been nicely buttered.

Big Lemonade.

Take the juice of one large lemon, add one-quarter cup of sugar, then 1 1/2 cups of ice water, and when well mixed, stir in the beaten whites of two eggs.

A GLIMPSE OF CUBA.

[From a letter written by Mrs. Fred Hodgkins, of Lamoine.]

The island of Cuba, which lies so near our own coast, is certainly one of the most interesting islands which has engaged the attention of our people in the past few years. How many of us, however, realize that Cuba, which we sometimes think of as being small, has, in fact, a length of more than 700 miles and some of its mountains have a height of nearly one and a quarter miles.

It is generally conceded that the climate of the winters is delightful, and while the summer heat is indeed trying in the extreme, prostration and sunstrokes are unknown.

Having recently had the opportunity of seeing the two principal cities, Havana and Cienfuegos, perhaps a brief description of these places might prove of interest to you.

On approaching the port of Havana one is impressed with the clear outline of the mountains, which may be seen even forty miles away, and the narrow entrance to the harbor. So narrow is this channel that it is impossible for steamers or vessels of any size to pass each other between the buoys.

On passing through the entrance, one of the most beautiful bays or harbors I have ever seen unfolds itself to view. This harbor is large, and except for this entrance, completely landlocked. The only blot on the almost perfect picture which it presents, is the wreck of our battleship Maine, which lies in the centre of the harbor. One of its turrets is still standing, and the whole wreck resembles a huge mass of iron and steel projecting from the water to a considerable height. Surrounding it on every side may be seen remnants of the decorations placed there each February in memory of those brave men who there gave their lives.

At the left lies Morro Castle, the oldest fort on the island; at the right is Havana, and numerous villages are situated around the bay.

Unlike most ports, there are few docks, and the many steamers that are constantly coming and going load and discharge their cargoes from lighters. One thousand boats of different descriptions are employed in the harbor alone for conveying passengers and freight to and from the landings.

Havana is a typical Spanish city of more than 200,000 inhabitants. All of the buildings are of masonry, and the houses present anything but a cheerful appearance from the street. The streets are mostly extremely narrow, with a narrow curbing, with only room for one person to walk. In order to avoid accident teams are obliged to go up one and down another street, and gongs on the saddles are constantly sounding, which is rather confusing.

There is a good electric car service extending to many places near the city, where Americans have modern homes, as many have business interests there since the American occupation of the island.

Large numbers of tourists visit there each year, so English is spoken, yet the universal language is Spanish.

What Broadway is to New York, Obispo street is to Havana, for here are the fine lace and linen stores. Japanese stores are beautiful. All have European goods, as but few dry goods are imported from the United States.

Numerous parks add much to the beauty of the places, for tropical plants are all beautiful. Several Protestant churches of different denominations have been established. An Easter service was especially enjoyed, as we met several American teachers who were most cordial.

The soil is rich and fertile and offers many advantages in an agricultural way. Frosts are never known, as in Florida. Bananas, at forty cents per bunch, and luscious pineapples at five cents each, make it seem like a bountiful country, as far as fruit is concerned.

The sanitary conditions of the island are much improved. All of the yellow fever cases of late have been brought from Mexico and Central American ports. Patients are at once placed under nettles, as a protection against mosquitoes, as it has been proved that mosquitoes convey the germs of the disease.

Cienfuegos, a much smaller city, is on the south side of the island. It resembles Havana in regard to the entrance, but there are several islands which add beauty to the large bay.

The largest sugar mills in the world are not far from the city. One finds many Spaniards here, and but few Americans. The Cubans are naturally a suspicious people and hardly trust themselves, much less foreigners. Some of them realize that their freedom from Spain came through the United States, and many believe that Cuba will some day become a part of this country which has done much for them in many ways.

Simple Remedy for Catarrh.
Just Breathe Hyomei Four Times a Day and be Cured.

Hyomei has performed almost miraculous cures of catarrh, and is to-day recognized by leading members of the medical profession as the only advertised remedy that can be relied upon to do just what it claims. The complete outfit of Hyomei costs $1.00, and consists of an inhaler, a medicine dropper, and a bottle of Hyomei.

Breathe Hyomei through the inhaler for a few minutes four times a day, and it will cure the worst case of catarrh. It soothes and heals the mucous membrane of the air passages, prevents irritation and effects a complete and lasting cure.

In Ellsworth there are scores of well known people who have been cured of catarrh by Hyomei. If it does not cure you, G. A. Parcher will return the money you pay for Hyomei. This is the strongest evidence that can be offered as to his faith in the remedy.

COUNTY SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

Interesting Convention Held in Ellsworth Monday.

The convention of the Hancock County Sunday School association held at the Congregational vestry in Ellsworth Monday afternoon was interesting in itself, but its greatest success was in the renewed interest which it awakened in Sunday school work and in the county organization, which has lagged during the past two or three years.

To this awakening of interest, Secretary H. E. Lufkin, of the Maine State Sunday school association, contributed in no small degree, his talks at the convention being an inspiration in themselves.

There were twenty-five delegates from out of town present at the convention, representing twenty schools. The total attendance at the afternoon session was about 125, and at the evening session about 150.

The programme as carried out was as follows:

AFTERNOON.
Service of praise and prayer, Rev. J. D. McGraw.
Reports, business, committees, etc.
Some 88 Problems—Rev. Angus McDonald.
Blackboard and Other Appliance—
Decision Day in the Sunday School, sec. H. E. Lufkin.
Teacher Training—sec. Sec. Lufkin.
S. S. Evangelism—Rev. S. L. Hanson.
Maine Sea Coast Mission—Capt. H. E. White.

Evening.
Praise service—Rev. J. G. Gavin.
Address—Rev. David N. Beach, D. D.
The talk by Dr. Beach in the evening was of special interest. He spoke of the advantages of the Sunday school and its work and the privilege of the Sunday school teacher.

At the business meeting of the association in the afternoon, officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows: President, Rev. J. C. Gavin, South Penobscot; vice-president, Rev. J. D. McGraw, Surry; secretary and treasurer, Miss Laura H. Jones, Brooksville; executive committee, Rev. R. L. Olds, Bluehill, and Rev. A. B. Carter, Brooksville.

The selection of time and place for the next annual convention was left with the executive committee.

Eggemoggin Local Union.

The meeting of the Eggemoggin local union will be held Sedgwick, Nov. 7, afternoon and evening, with the C. E. society connected with the First Baptist church.

Among the interesting features of the programme are addresses by Rev. G. B. Merritt, Ph. D., of Bangor, and Miss Margaret Koch, of Portland.

Mrs. L. M. N. Stevens Re-elected.
At the annual convention of the national W. C. T. U., in Los Angeles, Cal., yesterday, Mrs. L. M. N. Stevens, of Portland, was re-elected national president, and Miss Anna Gordon, of Boston, vice-president.

TREE GROWTH.

Whence and How it Comes No Man Can Tell.

One of the most wonderful among the many incomprehensible mysteries of earth is tree growth, says the Montgomery (Ala.) Advertiser. Everything connected with life and growth, animal and vegetable, is a mystery, for that matter, for all human knowledge fails to penetrate the hidden operations of nature or to tell the why and how of life. We see two plants growing side by side, fed from the same source above and below the ground, so far as we can determine, yet one produces a beautiful rose and the other an ill-smelling and ugly opposite. One tree produces a delicious peach and the other a sour crab, yet so far as we can see the same elements sustain both. We see and realize the difference, but fail to understand it.

But there are some things about tree growth, aside from leaves, flowers or fruit, that is as deep a mystery as is anything connected with animal life. An acorn, for example, is planted in the earth and in due time it sends down roots and sends up a tiny sprout. If not interfered with, it continues to grow, and in the course of many years becomes a tree. During this time the roots have been attracting moisture and food from the earth, and the trunk and limbs have been obtaining something from the air. Each year a new layer of wood is added, and so it continues until a great giant of the forest is the result.

The material for all this wood has been obtained somehow and from some source, but how it is done is the mystery. It may be one of many great trees growing almost against each other, and each has managed to absorb many cords of wood from some hidden recess of nature which man cannot fathom. We can search the earth and the air with all our powers and with all the instruments and appliances at our command, but we will fail to detect the tree germs.

Nor is this all of the greatest mystery. Two trees grow up side by side, fed from the same source, yet the wood of one is the soft yellow poplar and the other hard white hickory; one may be beautiful bird's-eye or curled maple, and the other pitch-pine or oak. There is another mystery that man cannot penetrate. Somewhere or somehow the alchemy or chemistry or machinery of nature carries on its tireless and ceaseless work, and the result is before us. That is all man knows, and probably all he will ever know, on the subject. All nature is a mystery and the growth of trees is not the least.

Keith's Theatre, Boston.

From top to bottom the list of entertainers scheduled for Keith's for the week of Nov. 6, stamps it as a programme that promises to be one of the best of the season. On it are the famous August family, the great jugglers organization; the Eight Allison, acrobats; Smith and Campbell, conversational comedians; Louise Dresser, singing comedienne; Fred Rose and Gusie Broesche, in a satirical exploitation of "A Woman of Few Words"; Jack Norworth, monologue comedian and parody singer; Maximilian Pilzer, violin virtuoso; Naomi Ethard, equilibrist; Lambert and Pierce, singers and dancers; the LePages, novelty jumpers, and the Holman Brothers, comedy bar performers.

Harry Howard's trained ponies and dogs have been specially engaged for the amusement of the juveniles, and an entire new list of comedy and motion pictures will be exhibited in the kinetograph. Wilfred Clark, the popular "legitimate" comedian, and company, are underlined for the week of Nov. 13.

New York claims the limit of all money classes. She has John Nicholas Brown, the richest baby in the world; James Henry Smith, the richest bachelor; William Zeigler, Jr., the richest boy; Miss Stickney, the richest spinster, and Rockefeller, the richest of all.

A grain of sand in the eye can cause excruciating agony. A grain of pepper in place of the grain of sand is the torment. The pain is not confined to the eye, as the whole body feels the shock of that little irritant particle. It is so when there is any derangement or disorder of the delicate womanly organs. The disorder may seem trivial but the whole body feels it. The nervous system is disordered. There are restlessness, irritability, sultriness and depression of spirits. The general health of woman depends on the local health of the woman's culinary feminine. Remove the cause, a cure, leaving down just a little. Remove the cause, and the whole body feels the benefit. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a specific for the diseases that undermine the strength of women. It is free from opium, cocaine and other narcotics, poisons which enter into many other preparations for women's use. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

SOMESVILLE.

Mrs. Dencie Somes and daughter, Miss Georgia, returned from Portland Monday. All are glad to have them here again.

M. L. Allen is closing out his entire stock of goods at remarkably low prices. Here is your opportunity to get in your winter supplies.

Mrs. Carrie Fernald returned to her home Sunday. She has been under treatment at the Bar Harbor hospital and very soon she is hoping to find herself much improved in health.

OBITUARY.

The funeral service of Mrs. Etta Reed Gray was held in the Union church Wednesday at 1.30 p. m., with Rev. Horace Leavitt in charge, assisted by the choir, which rendered three appropriate hymns.

The deceased was the oldest daughter of Andrew Reed, of this place. About twelve years ago she was married to Clarence Gray, formerly of Ellsworth. During their married life they have lived in several places in the State where Mr. Gray found employment at his trade, stone-cutting. At the time of Mrs. Gray's death they were living at Frankfort. Her death was the result of grip followed by pneumonia.

Mrs. Gray was an unusually attractive woman, and wherever she lived won hosts of friends whose hearts go out in tender sympathy to the bereaved husband and three small children, whose loss is greatest. The floral offerings were very appropriate, and were expressive of the esteem in which she was held. The husband and father particularly are heart-broken. May their sorrowing hearts find comfort from this truth:

"Gone from this world of sorrow,
Gone from this world of pain;
Yet our dear earthly loss
Is her eternal gain."

WEDDING BELLS.

On Thursday, Oct. 26, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Shepard Richardson was the scene of a very pretty wedding, when their daughter, Miss Cynthia, was united in marriage to Arthur Clement, oldest son of Charles Clement, of Seal Harbor. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. P. McDonald, of Seal Harbor, in the midst of immediate relatives.

The bride was charmingly dressed in white laces, trimmed with beautiful lace. Miss Kathia Richardson, sister of the bride, was maid-of-honor, and Irving Clement acted as best man. To the strains of a wedding march rendered by Miss Mary Somes, the bridal couple took their places under the arch of cedar and oak leaves, where the knot was tied, the impressive ring service being used.

After the wedding, which took place at high noon, a delicious lunch was served to the guests. Among those present were Charles Clement and wife, James Clement, C. Lewis Richardson and wife, Charles Leland and family, Mrs. Mary Leland, Mrs. Austin Richardson and Miss Somes. The presents were numerous and beautiful, and bore evidence of the high esteem in which the young couple are held.

The bridal couple left on the 3.30 train for Boston, amid showers of rice and old shoes. After spending a short time in Massachusetts they will return to Bar Harbor where they have rented a furnished home for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Clement have the best wishes of their Somesville friends.

BLUEHILL FALLS.

Capt. John Hall is in the harbor in his vessel, the Lehi, of Brooklin.

Colby Hooper and family have moved to the Nettie Sylvester cottage for the winter.

The clam factory opened Oct. 24. Clams are not very plentiful. The factory will employ about forty hands.

Schooner Rienza is at the wharf loading with slaves. Schooner Gamecock is waiting for another load of wood.

Lizzie Conary is with her brother, Joseph Conary, for a few weeks, while her daughter Dora is working in the factory.

Ross Colson and wife have gone to Massachusetts for the winter. Irving Candage will care for his horse while he is gone.

Etta Dowe is home from Portland. Mrs. Belle Wood is at home with her mother, who is very poorly. She has been confined to the house nearly two years.

Quite a number of cottages will go up at the Point this fall and next spring. Men are working on the foundations for two at present—the Cochran and Rose cottages. Rufus Chatto, Colby Hooper, Harry Conary and Wilbur Friend, of this place, are at work there.

EAST SULLIVAN.

E. W. Doyle & Co. are sawing headings in the upper mill.

The young ladies give a Halloween dancing party at the hall to-night.

Allan Hall, wife and young son have returned to their home in Sorrento.

The three nieces of Mrs. Martha Hooper, living in Southwest Harbor, visited with her and other relatives last week.

The Bridgman Hill school league held a nickel sociable in the hall Thursday evening, which was especially jolly for the young people.

The funeral of Mrs. Thaddeus Sinclair was held at the church Tuesday. It was largely attended, and the floral offerings were numerous and beautiful.

The last service of the season was held in the church Sunday morning, to the regret of all who have attended and especially enjoyed the October services. Sabbath school will continue at the regular time during the remainder of the quarter.

NEW YORK LETTER.

A Season of Spangles—Gold Trimmed Garments—Circular Skirts.

BY IRENE DEVEREUX.

This is certainly a season of gold and glitter. Never before has there been so lavish an employment of gold and silver and sparkling spangles in the trimming of hats, wraps, gowns, coats and suits. Everywhere the most somber shades are lightened with a touch of gold.

Many of the long coats in dark blues and blacks are adorned with double rows of dull gold buttons. Soft evening wraps are piped with cloth of gold, effectively combined with velvet in black and rich shades, and embroidered trimmings and waistcoats, which the Directoire vogue has so much popularized, show through their designs glinting threads of burnished gold.

Hats of velvet and French felt are ornamented with bands of gold, some of the more dressy affairs for evening and theater wear showing a profusion of gold and silver roses.

Combined with tulle boas are tiny inner ruffles of gold or silver, their narrow gold or silver streamers, two or three on each side, falling almost to the hem of the gown in front.

Through the meshes of lace robes, both black and white, shimmers a cloth of gold interlining, and elaborate belts and girdles are fashioned of plain gold and embroidered stuffs in many new and fashionable weaves.

For dark cloth suits there are thickly embroidered bands in Persian effects through which metallic threads or a very fine gold cord is interspersed, and much of the chenille embroidery used for similar purposes is interwoven slightly with gold thread or has embroidered stitches in gold worked up on it.

One scarcely meets a child these days whose jaunty little coat or jacket is not fastened or trimmed with gold buttons and gold buckles.

Bodices and blouses made of piece lace dyed to match the shade of the velvet or cloth skirts with which they are to be worn are soft and becoming and easily made. With these, as well as with other costumes, gold girdles and gold stocks are exceedingly effective, adding a new note both striking and artistic.

In spite of such elaboration in trimmings, skirts as a rule are severely plain. Particularly is this true of the separate skirt for practical purposes. This skirt, which is becoming more and more popular, closely resembles an abbreviated riding habit. The smartest of these are fastened directly in front underneath a double slotted seam. A corresponding seam is down the center of the back, not a plait or a gather to be seen anywhere. Narrow hems, tailor stitched, usually finish these skirts at the bottom.

This same model was seen in a nearly invisible green and brown plaid. In plaids the circular sides are decidedly bias in effect, and the flare at the bottom is in graceful ripples. When one may find a skirt of this description of handsome material splendidly tailored ranging in price from $10 to $15, it seems a waste of time to consider making.

As the season advances, hats are becoming more and more bent and mashed, and wings, if possible, larger and more pointed. Felt plateaus are bent in every conceivable shape, rippling around the face or turned up all around in many little flutes and angles. As a trimming for these, velvet is used extensively, exceedingly high bandeaus and high pointed wings making a chic and attractive ensemble. Such hats may be bent to fit any head or made becoming to almost all faces.

Our readers may have any question concerning fashion or fabrics answered without charge by Rene Devereux, fashion expert, by addressing Rene Devereux, P. O. Box 260, Madison Square, New York, enclosing stamp for reply.

"How fresh the air is here in the country! In the city it's intolerable!" "Yes, sir; I've often wondered why they don't build the big cities out in the country where there's better air and more room!"

"Ah! pretty lady!" exclaimed the fortune teller, "you have come to find your future husband?" "Not much!" replied the pretty lady, "I've come to learn where my present husband is when he's absent."

good; clerk, F. S. Call; collector and treasurer, E. C. Osgood; finance committee, C. L. Morang, Mrs. E. K. Hopkins, E. B. Wyman; trustees, J. A. Peters, E. K. Hopkins, F. S. Lord; pupil committee, Mrs. A. F. Greely, Mrs. J. A. Peters, Dr. H. W. Osgood; historian, Miss M. A. Greely.

A summary of the term of the supreme court which closed last Wednesday afternoon shows that seventy-six cases came off the docket. There were thirty-five judgments, fifteen divorces, twenty-three entered neither party, and three cases were dismissed. There were 138 new entries for the term. In addition to the divorces previously reported, decree was granted to Robert Corbett, libellant, of Winter Harbor, from Cora E. Corbett, for cruel and abusive treatment. B. E. Tracy for libellant.

Fred Fernald, of Ellsworth Falls, was fined $3 and costs in the Ellsworth municipal court yesterday, for assault and battery committed on Michael Povich. The trouble started in some horse play about a dance hall at Ellsworth Falls Monday night, where Povich was selling hot frankfurters. Some young men were "having fun" with Povich, when the latter, who didn't appreciate the particular variety of fun in vogue, made a threatening demonstration with a cardboard box. This aroused the wrath of Fernald, who punched Povich, and knocked him down.

The yard at the Ellsworth foundry wears quite the appearance of a ship-yard this week. A schooner, two sloops and a launch are hauled up there for the installation of Walker engines. The schooner Lewis R. French, of Eden, will be equipped with a sixteen-horse power engine as auxiliary power. John W. Pomroy and George D. Walls, of West Tremont, are having five-horse power engines put in their sloops, and T. R. Hodgkins, of Marlboro, has his new thirty-one-foot launch, not yet completed, fitted with an eight-horse engine. The launch will be used in scallop fishing this winter.

The "Mathematical Merrytime", which will be given at Hancock hall this evening under the auspices of the Helpsome society of the Baptist church, promises to be a unique and pleasing affair. There will be scenes representing mathematical terms, and prizes will be awarded those in the audience first guessing the term represented. There will be musical and literary features, the society being assisted in this by Miss Gertrude Greene, pianist; Miss M. A. Hodgkins, accompanist; Eleanor W. Pomroy, reader, and Harold S. Higgins, violinist. The entertainment will conclude with the farce "The Train to Mauro". During an intermission, ice-cream and home-made candies will be on sale.

The first of two descriptive song recitals by Frederick W. Bancroft, of Boston, was given in Odd Fellows hall last Friday evening. The attendance was not large, but those who did attend were well repaid. Mr. Bancroft's subject was: "Scottish Songs and Singers." He is a charming speaker, and held the attention of his hearers throughout. To know something about song-writers and about the circumstances that inspired them lends no little interest to the songs themselves, and as much of such knowledge as could be imparted in an hour and a half Mr. Bancroft imparted, interspersing his talk with the singing of many of the songs about which he talked. It was altogether interesting and instructive. His second recital is to be given on Friday evening, Nov. 10, at the same place. His subject will be: "Irish Songs and Song Writers."

How exquisite in life is the art of not seeing many things and of forgetting many things that have been seen!—James Lane Allen.

At Camp Comfort.

GREEN LAKE, Oct. 31 (special)—Camp Comfort, Green Lake, was occupied by C. L. Morang, of Ellsworth, and a party of friends from Boston and New York last week. Much of the time was spent in cruising about the lake in Mr. Morang's launch.

Mr. Stalker, of New York, acted as pilot, being familiar with the lake, and knowing accurately the location of every concealed rock, a fact which he demonstrated while steering the launch.

Another member of the party was Mr. Ducey, of Cambridge, Mass., who claims that all people are eccentric, which is probably true.

B. E. Johnston, who is well known to a great many people in Ellsworth, gave daily exhibitions of heart playing, for which card game he is termed among his intimates "the famous old mud-hog." The camp is closed now, and will not be opened again until next spring.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

Having contracted with one of the most successful firms of Real Estate Brokers and Promoters in this country (a firm having a clientage of thousands from almost every state in the union, and to whose untiring efforts the State of Maine owes two of its most important industries) to establish an agency for this State with headquarters for the present at Ellsworth, I feel that we can sell your Real Estate or Business for cash at a fair price, and that we can find a buyer for your property in less time than anyone else.

It makes no difference whether your property is worth $200 or $200,000, or in what part of Maine it is situated. If you want to sell, send me description and lowest cash price. If you want to buy, write me the amount you wish to invest, and state what you want. No charge unless purchase or sale is made.

I have cash customers for two wood lots within short distance (four miles) of Ellsworth postoffice, and for small house $750 to $1,000.

We can furnish experts to explore timber lands at low rates, and furnish abstracts of title to real estate in any county in Maine.

The absence of Gouldsboro items in THE AMERICAN last week is explained by the fact that the correspondent had the measles. There have been over sixty cases of measles here this summer and fall, and it is not "German" either, but the good (?) old-fashioned kind. In some cases it has been through an entire family—father, mother and children all having it.

Consumption

There is no specific for consumption. Fresh air, exercise, nourishing food and Scott's Emulsion will come pretty near curing it, if there is anything to build on. Millions of people throughout the world are living and in good health on one lung.

From time immemorial the doctors prescribed cod liver oil for consumption. Of course the patient could not take it in its old form, hence it did very little good. They can take and tolerate it for a long time. There is no oil, not excepting butter, so easily digested and absorbed by the system as cod liver oil in the form of Scott's Emulsion, and that is the reason it is so helpful in consumption where its use must be continuous.

We will send you a sample free.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

UNSUSPECTED WORMS

are the cause of numerous little things that go wrong with children. When they are sick you rarely think their sickness is caused by worms. They are rarely treated for worms. Yet worms are the cause either directly or indirectly of over 75 per cent. of the ailments of children. They are also frequent cause of illness in adults. The familiar symptoms of worms are disturbed health, deranged stomach, furred tongue, variable appetite and indigestion, increased thirst, itching of nostrils, intolerance, disturbed sleep, grinding of teeth, slow fever and often in children, convulsions.

DR. TRUE'S ELIXIR

is the only safe, sure, entirely vegetable worm remedy ever compounded. It not only expels worms but all waste matter, leaving the blood rich and pure and the whole system strong and healthy. Known and used successfully for three generations. This testimonial came with an order for more Elixir.

Dr. J. F. True, Auburn, Me.:
"My youngest son shows symptoms of having worms, and I know that your worm medicine will give prompt relief. My oldest son has a sea captain, was, when a boy, sickly and in poor health. We gave him your Elixir and he grew and thrived on it. We believe it saved his life."

SOUTH SURRY.

COMMUNICATION.

To the Editor of The American:

May I, through your paper, explain to the public how the wharf was built here at South Surry?

Capt. E. M. Curtis, one of our wide-awake men, who is always ready to work for the good of the place where he was born and always lived and owns a farm, thought a landing was one thing needed to attract the people and give them a chance to get here easily.

He started out to see what others would do. All thought the wharf was needed. I gave the lease of the wharf privilege and right-of-way to the highway through my lot of land as long as they kept the wharf and road in repair. Shares were sold at cried Hannah Plant, of Little Rock, Ark., "for the relief I got from Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It cured my fearful running sores, which nothing else would heal, and from which I had suffered for 5 years. It is a marvelous healer for cuts, burns and wounds. Guaranteed at E. G. Moore's drug store; 25c."

"I Thank The Lord!"

$5 each. The men and boys of South Surry built the wharf to be a steamboat landing for the public. The Percy V. calls nearly every trip.

BOWDOIN'S ATHLETIC RECORD.

A Summary of Contests With Other Maine Colleges.

Bowdoin college has just issued an attractive pamphlet giving the addresses delivered at the recent dedication of the Hubbard grandstand. This grandstand was presented to the college by Gen. Thomas H. Hubbard, of the class of '57. It is built of stone, brick, cement and steel, and cost $35,000. In its appointments and architecture it is the finest grandstand on any college athletic field in the world.

Gen. Hubbard made a brief and modest speech of presentation, dedicating the stand to the spirit of fair play. The stand was accepted on behalf of the college by Dr. F. N. Whittier, for nearly twenty years the director of Bowdoin athletics. In closing his address Dr. Whittier introduced carefully compiled statistics, showing the results of the athletic contests between Bowdoin and the other Maine colleges from the time athletic relations were begun down to the present time.

The tables show that in football Bowdoin has played nineteen games with Colby, winning twelve and losing five while two were tie games. With Bates there have been played twelve games, of which Bowdoin has won eight and lost four. With the University of Maine there have been played nine games, of which Bowdoin has won six and lost three.

In baseball Bowdoin has played eighty-three games with Colby, winning forty-two and losing forty-one. With Bates there have been played eighty-four games, of which Bowdoin has won forty-four and lost forty. With the University of Maine there have been played forty games, of which Bowdoin has won twenty-six and lost fourteen.

In track athletics Bowdoin has won ten of the eleven intercollegiate field days that have been held. The University of Maine winning one.

Accident on W. C. R. R.

At the Meadows crossing, near Calais, last Wednesday, a Washington county train struck and killed a pair of horses owned by John McElroy, of Upper Mills, N. B. Mr. McElroy, who is eighty-one years of age, was seriously injured. The train was hauling wood and Mr. McElroy was walking a short distance behind.

The horses stopped just before reaching the track, but when Mr. McElroy, who saw the train coming, ran up beside them they started up again and stopped directly on the track. The engineer of the train, seeing the team stop the first time and not expecting it to start up again did not slacken speed. Mr. McElroy was trying to back the team off the track when the train struck it.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

OBITUARY.

Matilda, wife of B. F. Hinckley, died October 26, aged a little more than seventy-two years. Mrs. Hinckley had been in poor health for a long time, and was confined to her bed for several weeks. Her two children, Mrs. Addie Maddox, with whom she lived the past six months, and her only surviving son, E. F. Hinckley, were untiring in their ministrations for her comfort.

For more than fifty years she had been a faithful wife. She was a kind mother and a steadfast friend. Her husband, himself in failing health, her children and grandchildren have the sympathy of many friends, as does also her aged brother, Thomas Gray, of Brooksville, who, though eighty-one years of age, was present at the funeral services, which were held in the chapel Saturday afternoon, Oct. 28.

The funeral was largely attended by many old friends and neighbors. Rev. R. L. Olds and Rev. E. Bean both took part in the service, and two selections were sung by the choir of the Baptist church. Mrs. Hinckley had been a worthy and consistent member of the Baptist church for about forty years.

THE OLD FOLKS AT HOME

Are Never Without Pe-ru-na in the Home for Catarrhal Diseases.

MR. and MRS. J. O. ATKINSON, Independence, Mo.

Remarkable Cures Effected By Pe-ru-na.

Under date of January 10, 1897, Dr. Hartman received the following letter:

"My wife has been a sufferer from a complication of diseases for the past twenty-five years. Her case has baffled the skill of some of the most noted physicians. One of her worst troubles was chronic constipation of several years' standing. She was also passing through that most critical period in the life of a woman—change of life.

"In June, 1895, I wrote to you about her case. You advised a course of Peru-na and Manalin, which we at once commenced, and have to say it completely cured her.

"About the same time I wrote you about my own case of catarrh, which had been of twenty-five years' standing. At times I was almost past going. I commenced to use Peru-na according to your instructions and continued its use for about a year, and it has completely cured me. Your remedies do all that you claim for them, and even more."—John O. Atkinson.

In a letter dated January 1, 1900, Mr. Atkinson says, after five years' experience with Peru-na:

"I will ever continue to speak a good word for Peru-na. I am still cured of catarrh."—John O. Atkinson, Independence, Mo., Box 272.

Mrs. Alla Schwanndt, Sanborn, Minn., writes:

"I have been troubled with rheumatism and catarrh for twenty-five years. Could not sleep day or night. After having used Peru-na I can sleep and nothing bothers me now. If I ever am affected with any kind of sickness Peru-na will be the medicine I shall use. My son was cured of catarrh of the larynx by Peru-na."—Mrs. Alla Schwanndt.

Why Old People are Especially Liable to Systemic Catarrh.

When old age comes on, catarrhal diseases come also. Systemic catarrh is almost universal in old people.

This explains why Peru-na has become so indispensable to old people. Peru-na is their safeguard. Peru-na is the only remedy yet devised that entirely meets these cases. Nothing but an effective systemic remedy can cure them.

A reward of $10,000 has been deposited in the Market Exchange Bank, Columbus, Ohio, as a guarantee that the above testimonials are genuine; that we hold in our possession authentic letters certifying to the same. During many years' advertising we have never used, in part or in whole, a single spurious testimonial. Every one of our testimonials are genuine and in the words of the one whose name is appended.

MEMORIAL RESOLUTIONS.

At the last meeting of Castine grange, No. 250, the following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, In the infinite wisdom of the Divine Master, Sister Nora L. Bowden has been called from this to her heavenly home, therefore be it Resolved, That in the death of Sister Bowden, our worthy chaplain, Castine grange loses one who from its first conception, was so devoted to its interests, and constant in attendance, that her absence leaves a large vacancy; and the memory of her cheerful presence, gentle dignity and willing service will linger long to inspire us to do better work, and to exemplify in our living the principles of our order.

Resolved, That we extend our warmest sympathy to the sorrowing husband and daughters. Although the way is shadowy, and the light of the home has so suddenly gone out, yet we trust their hearts are comforted in the thought that their loved one is safe in her beautiful new home where there is fullness of joy and pleasure forevermore.

Resolved, That in token of our loss, our charter be draped for thirty days, that a memorial page be set apart to her memory, a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved family, and also to the local papers for publication.

EAST ORLAND.

Mrs. Nancy Blaisdell died at her home here Wednesday night, Oct. 25, aged sixty-three years. She leaves a husband, son and one daughter, who have the sympathy of all.

Henry P. Dorr died Sunday at his home here, aged seventy-four years. He leaves a widow and one son and a sister. Funeral services were held Tuesday, Rev. J. P. Simonton, of the Ellsworth Methodist church, officiating.

"A man should never work before breakfast," says Dr. Simeplex. "But if it is absolutely necessary to work before breakfast one should at least have something to eat first."

Mother—So you have been at that jam again, Adolphus? Son—The cupboard door came open of itself, mother, and I thought—Mother—Why didn't you say: "Get thee behind me, Satan?" Son—So I did, mother; and he went and pushed me right in.

Edison admits that he has found radium a dangerous substance to experiment with. It has injured one of his eyes seriously and had a bad effect upon his stomach. He says that the influence of the wonderful substance upon his physical condition was the most mysterious thing that ever happened to him.

"You talk about posters and your ads. upon the fence, But they ain't the kind of mediums that appeals to common sense; You may talk about your dodgers, and your circulars and such, But I calculate they don't assist an advertiser much; And especially in winter, when the snow is on the ground, the crowd, the crowd, the crowd, But within the cozy homestead, when the parlor newspaper is read aloud to everyone we know."

Proper Care of Books.

Never hold a book near a fire. Never drop a book on the floor. Never turn leaves with the thumb. Never lean or rest upon an open book. Never touch a book with damp or soiled hands.

Always keep your place with a thin bookmark. Always place a large book on a table before opening it.

Always turn leaves from the top with the middle or forefinger.

Never pull a book from the shelf by the binding at the top, but by the back.

Never touch a book with a damp cloth nor with a sponge in any form.

Never place another book, or anything else, upon the leaves of an open book.

Never rub dust from books, but brush it off with a soft, dry cloth or duster.

Never close a book with a pen-knife, a pad of paper or anything else between the leaves.

Never open a book further than to bring both sides of the cover in the same plane.

Always keep books of value out of the reach of children and in a clean, dry place.

Always keep a borrowed book covered with a paper cover while in your possession.

Never cut the leaves of
